A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To The Alumni Association:

The officers and members of the Executive Committee join with me in extending a very special invitation to you to come to the celebration of our Commencement week, June 13th, 14th and 15th. It will be good to have you back and we are looking forward to seeing you at that time.

We of Jefferson receive an inspirational stimulus from the homecoming of our graduates from all parts of the world. Their loyalty and devotion is something of which we can be justly proud. Each five year class has a special excitement in anticipation of its reunion; the members of the Senior Class who attended their first Jefferson Alumni Dinner, are new members, it is they who will carry on the fine traditions and spirit of Jefferson; they will make future history for our Alma Mater; we know that you will be glad to meet them.

Please make every possible effort to insure your being with us.

We await your coming with keen pleasure.

Cordially yours,

President

Jefferson Welcomes You

A MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

My dear Friends:

Once again Commencement Time approaches and, lest, in this age of speed it takes us unaware, I am writing to tell you that we are looking forward to having you return to Jefferson for the Commencement activities, June 13th, 14th and 15th. We are always glad to receive you and enjoy your visits immeasurably. It is by such visits as these that we keep in touch with our graduates, while they in turn learn to know what we are doing at Jefferson and have the opportunity of renewing old friendships and acquaintances, from whom they learn, still more extensively, of what is being done in the fields of medicine and surgery in other localities. Such meetings are good for all of us as they afford an opportunity for interchange of ideas, occupations and avocations offering stimulation and relaxation.

So it is that I again invite you to be with us for the festivities during Commencement week. You will be warmly welcomed, and we shall be delighted to have you.

Trusting that I may have the pleasure of seeing a great many of you, I am

Cordially yours,

George Q. Bennett

Dean.

ALBERT J. NESBITT ELECTED TO BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Albert J. Nesbitt, outstanding civic and business leader, was elected a member of the Board of Trustees of Jefferson Medical College on March 26, 1956. Mr. Nesbitt is president of John J. Nesbitt, Inc., Philadelphia, manufacturers of heating, ventilating and air conditioning equipment.

The newly elected trustee has long had association with Jefferson and served in a position of leadership in the 1952 campaign for the New Pavilion of the hospital. He has given vigorous leadership in numerous local and national organizations.

Mr. Nesbitt was born February 15, 1899 in Philadelphia, receiving his early education in the public schools of Atlantic City, New Jersey. He attended the Drexel Institute of Technology and the Pierce School of Business Administration in Philadelphia. In 1952 he was awarded the honorary degree of LL.D. by Ursinus College and the honorary degree of D.Eng. by Drexel Institute of Technology. Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts, awarded him the honorary degree of LL.D. in 1954.

Mr. Nesbitt is a member of the board of trustees of Drexel Institute of Technology, Pennsylvania State University, the Children's Heart Hospital, and an associate trustee of the University of Pennsylvania.

In 1950 Mr. Nesbitt served as the general chairman of the first United Fund Campaign of Philadelphia. He has been a member of the executive committee of the Community Chest of Philadelphia and Vicinity and has served as national president of Community Chests and Councils of America. He is also on the executive committee of Boy Scouts of America (Philadelphia Council), United Service Organizations, Inc. (national), and the World Affairs Council.

He also serves as a director and past president of the Metropolitan Y.M.C.A., a director of the Greater Philadelphia Movement, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the Pennsylvania United Fund, the Commission for Human Relations, and the Union League of Philadelphia. He is a member of the Vestry of St. Thomas Church, Whitemarsh, and is a past president of the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

Mr. Nesbitt is a recognized authority on heating and ventilating, especially public school buildings, and has written numerous technical articles on the subject. He is a member of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, the National Society of Professional Engineers, the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers. He serves also on the board of directors of the American Meter Company, the First Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Company, and is a past president of the Metal Manufacturers Association of Philadelphia.

During World War II he served as a regional member of the national War Labor Board and was active on the Industrial Advisory Committee of the War Production Board. In a civilian capacity, he served as assistant chairman of the Industry Integration Committee of the Ordinance Department under Brigadier General R. E. Hardy; and at the end of the war, he was awarded a citation by the War Department.

Mr. Nesbitt is the recipient of many special awards which include a citation in 1950 by the Philadelphia Council of Churches for outstanding Christian service, and in 1954 was named Man of The Year by the Northeast Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, received the 1954 Pennsylvania Award for outstanding service to the American Competitive System, and was awarded the Mary Irick Drexel Service Award for his aid to the development program of Drexel Institute of Technology. In addition, in 1955 he was selected for membership into Tau Beta Pi because of his contributions to industry and efforts to enlarge Drexel Institute of Technology as an engineering institution. Recently he received the Golden Deeds Award of the Exchange Club of Philadelphia and the National Red Feather Award for distinguished national service to the Community Chests and Councils of America.

Mr. Nesbitt married Irene H. Gerew in 1921 and has one daughter, Mrs. Earl De Coursey of Jamison, Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt reside at The Benson, Jenkintown, Pennsylvania.

JOHNSON PUTNEY, JAMES E. BRENNAN, ENRIQUE A. VICENS, G. EDWARD ZERNE, RAY M. KESSEL.

DEPARTMENT OF OTOLARYNGOLOGY

Administration

When Dr. Louis H. Clerf retired, the department of Laryngology and Bronchoesophagology which he headed was merged with the department of Otology, to form a combined Department of Otorhinolaryngology. Even before Dr. Clerf's retirement, sectional teaching had already been combined by mutual agreement.

The two major divisions of the department are: (1) Otorhinology with Doctors Wagers, Smith, Kaufman, and Fox as rotating chiefs, and (2) Laryngology and Bronchoesophagology with Doctors Putney and O'Keefe as co-chiefs.

Twenty-eight beds are assigned to the department in the fourth annex. These beds are designated as follows: ten adult ward beds, eight children's beds, and ten semiprivate beds. The semiprivate beds are used primarily for endoscopic cases to provide prompt diagnostic service for referred patients. Most of these cases are admitted for a day to complete studies which include biopsy, cytology, culture and sensitivity tests, and contrast media x-rays.

The fourth annex operating room is maintained and equipped mainly for endoscopy and laryngeal surgery. It is hoped that air conditioning this area will be possible.

Three staff physicians are on part time salary from the Medical School to provide services beyond those contributed by voluntary staff members in the growing department. Most of the important functions of the department continue to be performed and supervised by our competent loyal voluntary staff.

Teaching

In the sophomore year, section instruction is given by members of this department in methods of examination of the ear, nose and throat as part of the course in physical diagnosis. Students use each other as "subjects" under the supervision of a staff member.

In the Junior year twenty-eight lectures are given to the entire class by senior members of the department. These lectures are designed to cover the subject matter of the specialty in an orderly manner and are illustrated by slides, movies, and demonstrations. Sectional instruction in the Curtis Clinic consists of a three week period of nine hours per week. Practical lectures precede the clinic during which patients are assigned to single students for complete examinations under the supervision of staff instructors. Special examinations such as air and bone conduction audiometry, the preparation, staining and examination of nasal smears for eosinophiles, and caloric tests are included. Observation of an endoscopic clinic is included in this period.

A department collection of slides and movies has been enlarged to aid in teaching. These are now being catalogued and indexed. While such aids are designed primarily for undergraduate teaching, they are also available to staff members for extramural talks. The most recent addition is a collection of 68 kodachrome slides of assorted laryngeal and bronchial lesions and movies on esophageal and middle ear disease.

Hospital Work

All phases of Otolaryngological examination and treatment are available. Included in the list of specialized procedures are endoscopy for diagnosis, therapy, and foreign bodies, laryngeal surgery including radical neck dissection, mastoidectomy and fenestration, stapes mobilization, and radical sinus or lachrymal sac surgery.

Graduate Training

Three residents are currently in training in all aspects of Otolaryngologic practice. By special arrangement with Dr. John D. Reese one of these receives experience in plastic surgery and also spends part time at the Veterans Hospital under our staff supervision. Two hours a week are spent in basic science seminars or laboratory experience such as dog endoscopy and pathology to supplement active clinical experience in all aspects of Otolaryngology. Residents also attend a course in anatomy of the head and neck given by Dr. George A. Bennett, Dean, at weekly intervals through the academic year. All clinical work is supervised by members of the staff. Internes are assigned to the department on an elective basis for a period of not less than one month. At monthly staff meetings professional papers are presented and discussed together with department reports and policies. A number of our staff also serve as consultants to local Service and Veterans Hospitals.

Research

The first research division in Otology was established in 1954. This division is headed by Dr. Joseph Sataloff, and the facilities are available to all interested staff members. At present Dr. Sidney S. Lerner and Dr. August P. Ciell are also working on projects in clinical research. A well equipped electronics laboratory staffed by a full time electronics engineer, Mr. Raymond H. Lazinski, and part time technicians is available for maintenance, design and construction of new equipment. This service is also available to other departments of the College and Hospital.

MR. RAYMOND LAZINSKI in a corner of the Electronic Laboratory.

Equipment designed and constructed for the department includes a modified Bekesy type Self-Recording Audiometer, Galvanic stimulator for vestibular testing, and a psycho-galvanometer for the objective testing of hearing.

Current research projects in progress are:

Masking in bone conduction studies.

Masking in conductive deafness.

Speech audiometry in individuals with tumors and partial section of the eighth nerve.

The effect of prolonged exposure to intense noise upon the hearing of exposed personnel is being actively investigated. This project is now in its sixth year, and a preliminary report has been published recently. The study involves noise analysis and hearing testing in a large local industrial plant.

A five or ten year project is now being initiated in a national industrial corporation to study the effect of noise upon employees who are exposed to various intensities for long duration under varied circumstances.

A self-recording audiometer is now being completed which will enable us to investigate many phenomena particularly recruitment, adaptation, and auditory fatigue. This is a long range project and will require instrumental calibration as well as studies on many normal ears before investigating pathological situations.

A number of less time consuming and definitive projects are also being investigated. Among these are: (1) Audiological findings in children who have hearing defects resulting from Rh incompatibility with kernicterus. (2) The establishment of normal hearing values in a large group of subjects above the age of sixty-five. No such reports have yet appeared in the literature, and this investigation should establish normal values for an ever increasing group of aged people. (3) A review of the literature in the entire field of audiology is expected to be published every two years by members of the department of Otolaryngology.

Future Developments

The busy Otolaryngologist usually has neither the time nor equipment to perform complex hearing tests that are indicated in certain cases. The individual with a conductive deafness or minimal non recruiting nerve deafness is seldom a problem and can be adequately handled in office practice. Patients with marked perceptive deafness, especially with recruitment (abnormal growth of loudness) need special tests such as speech audiometry and recruitment studies to fully evaluate the hearing status. Furthermore ancillary services such as lip reading instruction and auditory training are usually required to restore communication. Dismissing these patients with the recommendation of "trying" a hearing aid is no longer acceptable procedure. Another area where office testing is often unable to supply a complete answer is the determination of the degree of deafness in the pre-school child. Since subjective responses are unreliable, objective methods are necessary. These include observation of turning reaction to noisy toys which have been calibrated for frequency and intensity, and psychogalvanometry. Such tests are often very time consuming and require a team. Without such tests, the differential diagnosis between deafness and central nervous system disease is often difficult.

We already have a speech audiometer and psychogalvanometer, together with several modern audiometers as a nucleus for such a center. Additional space has been assigned and its adaptation for such use is contemplated. Our greatest need now is additional personnel to perform these services.

When the diagnostic and rehabilitation center is functioning, it is hoped that services will be available to referred private patients as well as clinic cases. The underlying philosophy is that the referring physician will have a choice of requesting certain diagnostic tests and making his own interpretation and recommendations as for instance he now does with other laboratory tests or he may refer his case to a staff Otolaryngologist for the selection of tests, interpretation, and recommendation. It is also anticipated that services will be possible for State and Veterans' Administration diagnostic and rehabilitation procedures. Data accumulated in such a program should be a valuable source of information for research and improvement in methods of handling the hearing handicapped.

Conversion of two transillumination rooms for additional use as audiometer rooms for students in the clinic is being currently accomplished.

TWO SENIORS WIN SCHERING AWARD

The Jefferson Medical College and her Alumni are very proud of the two members of the Senior Class, Charles King Mervine, III and David Charles Schechter who have recently won two of the Schering Award first prizes in the Tenth Annual Competition among medical students from more than eighty medical schools and colleges in the United States and Canada.

In a ceremony held in the office of the Dean, George Allen Bennett, M.D., two checks for $500.00 were presented to each student by Dr. Chester J. Szmál, Chairman of the Schering Award Committee. Dr. Szmál said, "It is most extraordinary that for the first time in the history of the Award two students from the same school have taken first prizes for papers in two of the three given subjects. Moreover, they co-authored the two papers."

The Schering Award is devoted to the encouragement of medical writing in the hope that medical students will contribute significantly to the professional literature during their careers in medicine, Doctor Szmál explained. He added that some of the Award-winning papers have been so outstanding that they have themselves been published in medical journals.

Each year, students in the United States and Canada participate in the competition by submitting papers on one of three given subjects. The best papers in each category are selected by a group of judges who are authorities in their respective fields. Both a $500.00 first prize and a $250.00 second prize are awarded for each of the three subjects.

In their two top papers, Mr. Mervine and Mr. Schechter dealt with the incidence and classification of blood transfusion reactions and methods of preventing recurrence in patients; and the multiple cause of osteoporosis, one of the main causes of senility, and the newer concepts in treatment of this important condition.

Our warmest congratulations go to these fine men, and our best wishes to them for a very successful career. We trust they will write many more important papers which will benefit not only the medical profession but all mankind.

CHARLES KING MERVINE, 3rd

Charles King Mervine, 3rd, born in Philadelphia, Penna., December 21, 1930.

Attended the Henry C. Lea Grammar School and the West Philadelphia Public High School. Graduated with distinction from The Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science in 1952 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry. While attending P. C. P. & S., received the Cliffe, Troth and Powers Scholarships, served on the Graduate (Yearbook) Staff and as Chairman of the College's Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society, carried out original research on non-newtonian viscosity, and worked as a student instructor in the Chemistry laboratories. Upon graduation, awarded the Gold Medal of the Alumni Association, the Frank X. Moerk Memorial Prize, the Award of the American Institute of Chemists, and the Philadelphia Section Award of the American Chemical Society.

Entered The Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia in 1952 with the Francis W. Shain Scholarship. Present member of the Samuel D. Gross Surgical Society for two years, serving as their Treasurer in 1955, and member of the Nu Sigma Nu Fraternity for four years. Elected to the Alpha Omega Alpha Honorary Medical Fraternity in 1955 and received the Tenth Annual Schering Award in 1956. Upon graduation from Jefferson, internship will be spent at Montgomery Hospital in Norristown, Penna., followed by a residency in Internal Medicine.

Presently holding membership in the American Chemical Society, The Franklin Institute, the American Institute of Chemists, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Student American Medical Association, and the Samuel D. Gross Surgical Society of Jefferson.

Married May 27, 1955 to Kaye C. Fithian of Elmer, New Jersey.

DAVID CHARLES SCHECHTER

Born in Egypt in 1931. Attended French and British private schools in Alexandria. Completed high-school at 15 with the Oxford and Cambridge School Certificate, and the University of London Matriculation. Relinquished a City of Alexandria scholarship to the Victoria College, a British institution, in order to study in the U. S. Spent a year with tutors before coming to this country.

Pre-medical training at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. Graduated with Honors, and returned for a Master's degree. While at Jefferson Medical College, worked part-time in the research laboratories of Dr. Gibbon, Dr. Rakoff, and the Albert Einstein Medical Center, and associated for a number of years with a consultant firm, LaWall & Harrison of Philadelphia. Published various papers in the medical and scientific literature, some of which were presented at national conferences.

In 1954, was Philadelphia reporter for the World Wide Medical News Service. Awarded Honorable Mention in 1955 by the Philadelphia College of Physicians Section on Medical History for a dissertation analyzing the public health and biologic warfare background of the Biblical Ten Plagues. In the same year, received Honorable Mention in the Schering Award for an essay on androgen therapy.

Is married to the former Gladys Woldofsky, a school-teacher, they have a 3-year-old daughter, Suzanne-Elise. Membership in Alpha Omega Alpha, Phi Delta Epsilon, and other organizations. Past President of Samuel D. Gross Surgical Society. Featuring in several extra-curricular interests are medical history, mythology, archaeology, opera, modern art, and jazz. Internship at Jefferson Hospital. Future plans: specialization in either Surgery or Obstetrics and Gynecology.

TWO OF THE CONGRATULATORY LETTERS

I address you jointly because your names are so joined in the Schering Award announcement.

You may both feel sure of the pride which we, your teachers, feel in this remarkable record of achievement. I do not mean the uniqueness of two awards to the same school, but that each of you has excelled and deserved this fine recognition.

I hope your winning will remain with you always as an index of what you can do and that this is just the beginning of promising careers. I can assure you that if you have worked hard for this you will have to work still harder for your future.

With my most sincere congratulations and best wishes always

Wm. Harvey Perkins, M.D.
Professor and Head of the Department of Preventive Medicine

From me personally and on behalf of the Board of Trustees, I extend our sincere and heartiest congratulations to you for the wonderful accomplishment in winning two of the three prizes of the Schering Award.

The fact that students from eighty medical schools in the United States and Canada competed for these prizes, and that both of you in your co-authored papers were the winners, is an outstanding achievement.

It reflects real ability and interest in your future careers and redounds credit to your teachers and the reputation of Jefferson Medical College.

My very best wishes to you both.

Sincerely,
Percival E. Foerderer
Chairman of the Board of Trustees

WILLIAM B. SWARTLEY, M.D.

Dr. William B. Swartley, whose death occurred on November 15, 1955, at the age of 71, was a member of the teaching staff of The Daniel Baugh Institute of Anatomy of The Jefferson Medical College since 1920.

Educated at Albright College and at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, Dr. Swartley's first association with Jefferson came in 1913 as Clinical Assistant Surgeon in Service C with Dr. Francis Stewart, under whose influence he developed his desire to support his surgical procedures through the study and teaching of basic anatomy.

Most of Dr. Swartley's professional career centered about Germantown Dispensary and Hospital, and began with his internship in 1909 and advanced steadily until he became Attending Surgeon in 1922; Chief of the Department of Anesthesiology in 1934, Surgeon in Charge of Anesthesiology in 1936, and Director of Service, Department of Surgery, in 1939. Additional hospital associations and appointments included that of Intern and Assistant Chief Resident at Pennsylvania Hospital in 1910; Assistant Dispensary Surgeon at Childrens' Hospital in 1913; Assistant Surgeon, Philadelphia General Hospital in 1917; Surgeon to the Chestnut Hill Hospital starting in 1930; Chief Surgeon to the Philadelphia Hospital for Contagious Diseases, 1940; Assistant Consulting Staff Surgeon at Chestnut Hill Hospital and at Germantown Hospital in 1948. Also, he held courtesy staff appointments at Episcopal and Bryn Mawr Hospitals.

Dr. Swartley served with distinction in World War I in France, and at the Rockefeller Institute in New York and the Walter Reid Hospital. He received the Selective Service Medal for his service during World War II. The many contributions to medical literature, spread over Dr. Swartley's entire professional career, attest to his firm and enduring interest in medical research and in its application to medical practice. He was a member of many professional societies as student and practitioner: Phi Alpha Beta and the H. C. Wood Medical Society (University of Pennsylvania), Philadelphia County Medical Society, Pennsylvania State Medical Society, American Medical Association, College of Physicians of Philadelphia, Philadelphia Academy of Surgery, American College of Surgeons. He was a founder member of the American Board of Surgery. Dr. Swartley held membership in the Germantown Cricket Club and the Huntingdon Valley Cricket Club. He was President of the Doctor's Golf Association and of the Inter-Hospital Bridge Whist Association.

His colleagues recall how generously and warmly Dr. Swartley gave of himself to his students, his fellow staff members, and to the several institutions and civic groups with which he was associated. His patience and kindness were characteristic, his friendliness was contagious. All who knew him regret his passing.

Although his professional activities were necessarily curtailed by an illness in 1948 Dr. Swartley continued practicing until his death. Surviving are a son, Lieutenant Colonel John N. Swartley, United States Marine Corps; a brother, Samuel Norman; a sister, Mrs. Anna S. Rinker, 2nd; and two grandchildren. A nephew, Robert N. Swartley, graduated from Jefferson in the class of 1947.

ALUMNI ANNUAL GIVING FUND IN FINAL PHASE

John H. Gibbon, Jr., M.D., Chairman

As we approach the final weeks of this year's Alumni Annual Giving Fund, there appears to be good opportunity for attaining our goal of $110,000.

One of the very heartening things that impresses me, as your chairman, is the inspirational loyalty and industry of the class agents and their associates. Through their correspondence they pass on news of the college and of classmates and they maintain class unity in every way. They cannot be thanked too much, but our appreciation is best expressed by giving every support possible and responding to their appeals for Jefferson.

This year, and in the earlier years since the Fund was formed, class agents have stressed the need to provide adequate salaries for the faculty in the basic years in medicine. Your response to the class agents' requests has been remarkable and has strengthened your college.

Through the continuing support of alumni, the Annual Giving Fund has become an important factor in providing an addition to teachers' salaries and in supporting the program which has enlarged the pre-clinical teaching staff to meet high standards for the larger student body. Annual giving support to the college meets only a part of these increased costs but that part is greatly needed by the college. Alumni can feel justifiably proud of our teaching staff which produces each year young graduates of unexcelled training.

It is deeply gratifying to all who are associated with Jefferson that alumni throughout the world have so generously come forward to meet our college's needs, making it possible for the pre-clinical departments to maintain their excellent standard of work. For this loyal support we are most thankful to you.

Although our previous years' records have been impressive, it is hoped by the Fund Committee and the class agents that this year's Fund will attain the $110,000 figure. On May 8th, 45.1% of the alumni have given $95,415.82 or 87% of the goal. We are slightly ahead of this date in last year's campaign. 2,742 of our alumni have responded to the appeals of the class agents and it is gratifying to note the high percentage of alumni who express their devotion to Jefferson by giving year after year. Not only does this large group repeat its support each year, but individual gifts have increased significantly in amount. Jefferson is especially grateful to those regular givers, whose continually expressed loyalty is of great encouragement to the class agents.

There remain hundreds of Jefferson alumni who have contributed to prior annual funds but have not yet replied to the appeal made by their class agents this year. Our hope for reaching the goal, thus meeting the budget needs of the college, rests on the support of those who have given in previous years and the renewed activity of the class agents.

The needs of our medical college in the pre-clinical departments continue to be urgent and they merit generous support. We may expect that Jefferson will continue to grow in knowledge, attainments and prestige in the field of medicine and take satisfaction that it is our privilege to share in the present and future accomplishments. We hope you feel a sense of partnership that can hardly be gained in any other way.

If you have not yet contributed to this Eighth Annual Giving Fund, please make contact with your class agent. Your support of the college will be deeply appreciated by all.

The foregoing figures show a total of $1,312,542.77 as the Alumni Association's support of The Jefferson Medical College.

MAJOR GENERAL HOWARD MCC. SNYDER visited the Cardio-Vascular Research Laboratory at the Presbyterian Hospital while in Philadelphia to speak at the hospital's 50th Annual Founders' Day Luncheon. DR. J. RODERICK KITCHELL (at the left), Chief of Cardiology, described to MAJOR GENERAL SNYDER the use of a four channel recorder employed during heart surgery to record both electrocardiograms and blood pressures. DR. ROBERT P. GLOVER, Chief of Thoracic and Cardio-Vascular Surgery and Director of the laboratory, is at far right.

DISTINGUISHED MEMBER OF THE CLASS OF 1905

Major General Howard McC. Snyder, President Eisenhower's physician, member of the Class of 1905, The Jefferson Medical College, spoke at the Founder's Day Luncheon of the Presbyterian Hospital at the Warwick Hotel in Philadelphia, April 2, 1956. Major General Snyder interned at the Presbyterian in 1905-1906.

Mr. Frank C. Roberts, Jr., President of the Board of Trustees of the Hospital and Chairman of the Board of the Liberty Real Estate Bank and Trust Company, presided. He reported on the progress of the hospital's $4,000,000.00 modernization program. Mr. Roberts introduced Dr. John T. Farrell, Jr., Jefferson '22, President of the Philadelphia County Medical Society, who brought a message to Major General Snyder from the Society.

Seated at Major Snyder's left at the speakers' table was Dr. Albert E. Blackburn, a member of Presbyterian Hospital's Medical Staff and a resident chief at Presbyterian when Major General Snyder interned there. Dr. James R. Martin, Jefferson '10, Associate Dean, The Jefferson Medical College, also sat at the speakers' table. The following members of Major General Snyder's class sat at a reserved table in front of the speakers' table: Doctors Joseph A. Biello, Robert T. M. Donnelly, Edward A. Eichman, Ralph C. Kell, Frederick W. Killian*, Lorenzo F. Milliken, George H. Severs, Gabriel F. Tucker and J. Harris Underwood.

Major General Snyder said that the presence of his classmates meant a great deal to him. He spoke on the many changes which have taken place in the half century since he interned at Presbyterian Hospital. He said "From one point of view it may be said that greater changes have occurred within this period than during the whole history of recorded medicine prior to my internship".

DR. J. LAWRENCE EVANS, '10
RECEIVES DESERVED TRIBUTE
FOR HIS HOSPITAL AND HIS LIFE
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1956

HONORABLE T. JAMES TUMULTY Said:

Mr. Speaker, under leave to extend my remarks, I include an article from the Hudson Dispatch, a distinguished newspaper of the 14th Congressional District entitled "Deserved Tribute to Dr. Evans, His Hospital, His Life." Dr. J. Lawrence Evans has had a distinguished career in North Hudson, New Jersey. He has been truly devoted to the cause of humanity. His work has brought happiness and surcease of pain to many who are commended to his care. We in the 14th District are proud of him. This editorial sets forth in a brief way some of the mileposts in a distinguished life dedicated to mercy:

DESERVED TRIBUTE TO DR. EVANS, HIS HOSPITAL, HIS LIFE

Outstanding and unsurpassed service to North Hudson Hospital in a wide variety of capacities over a span of more than a half century were fittingly marked on January 18th when Dr. J. Lawrence Evans, Administrator and Medical Director of the hospital, was honored at a surprise party on his 77th birthday.

Few men have ever displayed more zeal and devotion to a cause than has Dr. Evans. Ever since early in the present century, this highly capable, physician and administrator has given everything he possessed in energy, talent, know-how and unremitting stick-to-itiveness to promoting the services and expansion of North Hudson Hospital. He truly has devoted his life to this cause and it has been a hard, uphill struggle beset by no end of difficulties, particularly the economic phases of keeping a private institution of this kind in the black.

Undoubtedly, much of the credit for what has been accomplished over the years at this hospital, which serves the six communities of the northern end of Hudson County, belongs to Dr. Evans. His diplomacy and resourcefulness has been a major factor in overcoming countless obstacles which would have defeated many men of lesser determination and purpose.

Dr. Evans served as staff president of the hospital from 1912 to 1925, except during World War I, when he was surgeon of the 115th Machine Gun Battalion and later sanitary inspector of the 30th Division, comprising the National Guard of the two Carolinas and Tennessee, which was among the combatant forces of the British Army.

The recent annual meeting of the hospital board of governors marked the 24th consecutive year in which Dr. Evans has been chosen medical director of the institution. In addition, he has served as hospital administrator for some years.

Despite his 77 years, Dr. Evans continues to handle his manifold duties with vigor and zest that belie his age. He seems to be well-nigh indefatigable and we wish him many more years in professional harness, a desire, we are sure, he himself entertains for he'd surely be lost without his beloved hospital to guide and serve.

We recall back in February of 1938 when the redoubtable doctor, who had been on the go day and night in his hospital duties, private practice and personal matters, suffered an attack of gastritis, which had been brought on by irregular diet, lack of sleep and overwork. At first it had been reported Dr. Evans had suffered a heart attack. With characteristic reaction, he underwent examination by a heart specialist, got a pronouncement after a thorough examination that his heart was perfect and then issued a denial of a report that he would discontinue his activities at North Hudson Hospital. He did consent to take it easy for a short time and then plunged full-tilt into his work there, which has continued without let-up another 18 years.

At his surprise party the other night, he was surrounded by members of the hospital board and staff, relatives and friends, including 3 sons, 2 of whom are also physicians, Dr. J. Lawrence Evans, Jr. and Dr. Robert Evans.

In his annual report for 1955, Dr. Evans said that cases at the hospital increased approximately 15% over 1954. Emergency cases treated at the hospital increased to 10,600, with more than 5,000 ambulance cases being treated. Approximately half were handled by the hospital ambulance.

Taken from the Congressional Record of the United States of America, Proceedings and Debates of the 84th Congress, Second Session, Volume 102, #31, Washington, Thursday, February 23, 1956.

ISIDOR HENDEL, M. D., '17

Isidor Hendel, M.D., 50 State Street, New London, Connecticut, Class of 1917, was given an unusual testimonial dinner April 14, 1956, at the Ocean Beach Park Auditorium. More than six hundred and fifty patients and friends came to celebrate his thirty-five years of service to the community.

A program which traced Dr. Hendel's life from his birth to the present day was arranged by Mrs. Seymour Smithline and Mr. Israel M. Resnikoff.

Dr. Hendel's mother as well as other members of his family, teachers, doctors, nurses, patients and friends joined in toasting Dr. Hendel for his devotion, kindness and great friendship during his long and faithful service to the community. Mr. Richard J. Hancock, Administrator of Lawrence Memorial Hospital, in behalf of the hospital, accepted a Flame Photometer, which was inscribed "In appreciation of Isidor Hendel, M.D. given by his many friends and patients".

The Photometer was described by Mr. Hancock as an instrument used in the laboratory for blood chemistry. It permits tests to be made and reported to the attending physician much more rapidly and accurately. The model presented is the first one released by the manufacturer for general usage.

Dr. Hendel was then presented with a parchment scroll which read "we honor you for spending the enthusiastic years of your youth in the attainment of useful knowledge; for your devotion of that knowledge to the loyal and unselfish ministry of your fellow man; for alleviating the ills of the suffering, making well the sick and strong the weak, for watching with guardian care the newborn life or the slow outgoing of age, for bringing sunshine in dark places and peace where sorrow dwells, all the while giving of yourself in scholarly, gentlemanly services to the community".

Dr. David W. Kramer, Associate Professor of Medicine at The Jefferson Medical College, read the Hippocratic Oath offstage during the "This is Your Life" program. Dr. Kramer said of Dr. Hendel, "He was a good student, a hard worker and lived up to the fullest meaning of the Hippocratic Oath as this great gathering so wonderfully testifies."

We congratulate Dr. Hendel upon this wonderful testimonial to his place in the hearts of this nice community whom he has served so faithfully, so skillfully and so devotedly for the past thirty-five years. We wish him everything good for the coming years.

W. WYAN WASHBURN, '43

1943 MAN DOING INTERESTING WORK

W. Wyan Washburn, M.D., Boiling Springs, North Carolina, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Washburn of Shelby, North Carolina, is Administrator of Gardner-Webb Community Health Center, member and former President, Board of Trustees Gardner-Webb College, and at present Vice-Chairman of the Board.

Gardner-Webb College Community Health Center, commonly known as Gardner-Webb Clinic, is a modern twenty bed hospital with facilities for general medicine, obstetrics, minor surgery, college infirmary and community out-patient department. It has two physicians, seven graduate nurses, two technicians, three secretaries, four nurses' aides, one housekeeper, one orderly and self-help employment for four pre-nursing college students.

During the last year the Clinic admitted fifteen hundred persons mostly from a radius of ten miles. There were two hundred and twenty-five babies born and approximately four hundred operative procedures. Average length of stay is three and a half days at a cost of less than $10.00 per day. (Cost in the Southeast in general hospitals ranges from $12.00 to $15.00 per day.) The two doctors saw approximately eighteen thousand out-patients and in addition made a large number of home calls.

The Clinic is non-profit but has managed to stay in the black during the past six years and at the same time does approximately $5,000.00 worth of charity work per year. The Administrator and his associate, Dr. Sam J. Crawley, Jr., receive no salary, although they do get a small fee for the physical examination and care of the four hundred and thirty-five college students.

The original gift for the health center was made by the late Dr. S. S. Royster, of Shelby, who formerly had been an old-time country doctor in the horse and buggy days.

To this original fund of $13,000.00 was added money from the college and community to provide twelve beds. Two years ago it was enlarged to twenty beds. Total value of building and equipment is approximately $100,000.00. The Clinic operates on a budget of approximately $50,000.00 a year. It serves an area of approximately an eight mile radius of the college, in which live ten thousand to fifteen thousand people. Some patients come to the doctor and to the Clinic from as far away as twenty miles.

The Clinic has up-to-date diagnostic facilities including a two hundred milliamp X-ray machine; a clinical laboratory for blood counts, microscopic and chemical examinations; a basal metabolism apparatus; electrocardiograph; audiometer for hearing tests; sight screener for visual tests, anesthesia and suction apparatus.

Dr. Washburn says:

"As long as I can remember my chief desire and aim in life has been to be a doctor, a country doctor.

A good many years ago I realized that the practice of medicine in the country needed to be brought up-to-date. Rural people are as much entitled to the benefits of modern science and medical knowledge, a correct diagnosis, and adequate treatment as are their cousins in the city. At the Gardner-Webb Clinic we have tried to bring medicine up to date in a rural area.

The complexity of our modern times demands twenty-four hour a day medical services. It is impossible for one doctor, working alone, to give this service day in and day out with no time for rest, relaxation or study.

A small college, such as Gardner-Webb, must necessarily be a "community" college to do its best work; that is, it must be integrated into the total life of the community and also give some service to the community. We think the operation of a clinic or a small community hospital is one of the ways to serve.

The addition of the Clinic to our community has been like adding a new industry. It has stimulated building, retail trade, transportation and education. In adding some $50,000.00 annually to the pay roll of the community it has helped in the same way that a new industry would help.

Some of the things we have in mind for the health center to promote or sponsor in the future are:

- (1) Health education consultant for full time work in adjacent communities and for teaching in the college.
- (2) More complete physical examinations for all students in this community, in addition to the usual inspection by the Health Department.
- (3) State approved course for practical nurses.
- (4) Classes for adults in health subjects, such as home hygiene, prenatal care, child psychology and mental health.
- (5) Regular radio and television programs and releases.
- (6) Home for the aging near the Clinic."

CALIFORNIA CHAPTER

The Jefferson Alumni Association held its Annual Luncheon in the Crystal Room of the Carolina Hotel at Pinehurst, North Carolina on May 1, 1956.

The Jefferson Alumni held a banquet in conjunction with the California State Medical Association on May 1st, 1956, in the Venetian Room of the Ambassador Hotel. More than sixty of the Alumni and their wives were present. The master of ceremonies, in his usual good form, was Dr. Joseph M. de Los Reyes, '28.

Dr. Robert Bruce Nye, Assistant Dean, flew out from Philadelphia to represent the dean, who found it impossible to attend. Dr. Nye spoke on "Faculty Changes Over The Years". His talk was followed by a question and answer period.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic one and was enjoyed by all present.

*DR. HARRY E. KIRSCHNER, '02, *MRS. J. ELDER BRYAN (not shown in picture), MRS. HARRY MOSIER, DR. GEORGE C. GRIFFITH, '26, DR. ROBERT BRUCE NYE, '27, Assistant Dean, DR. CECIL BERNARD VAN SCIVER, '27, DR. JOSEPH M. DE LOS REYES, '28, MRS. CECIL B. VAN SCIVER, MRS. JOSEPH M. DE LOS REYES, DR. J. ELDER BRYAN, JR., '45, who was the photographer.

It always gives us great pleasure and satisfaction to know that our Chapters are active and enthusiastic, nurturing the spirit of fellowship, which goes so far in helping to maintain a strong Association. It is only through Chapters that strength of the Association can be perpetuated.

NORTH CAROLINA CHAPTER

The North Carolina Chapter of The Jefferson Alumni Association held its Annual Luncheon in the Crystal Room of the Carolina Hotel at Pinehurst, North Carolina on May 1, 1956.

This luncheon was in conjunction with the Annual Meeting of the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina. This was one of the best attended Alumni gatherings in recent years.

Dr. Walter T. Tice of High Point, the current President, introduced three important Jefferson Alumni in the persons of Dr. George Lull of Chicago, General Manager of the American Medical Association; Dr. David Allman of Atlantic City, President-Elect of the American Medical Association; and Jefferson's own Dr. James R. Martin of Philadelphia. The entire membership was much interested in the remarks of each of these gentlemen but was particularly interested in having some direct word from our Alma Mater brought to us by Dr. Martin.

The new officers elected were Dr. Ike Harris, President, Durham, N. C., and Dr. Dave Pressley, Secretary-Treasurer, Statesville, N. C.

OHIO CHAPTER

On April 10, 1956 the Sixth Annual Jefferson Alumni-Ohio Dinner Meeting was held, for the second time, in Cleveland, Ohio, in conjunction with the annual Ohio State Medical Association Meeting, where physicians and their wives gathered to learn and live.

This year the meeting was held in the beautiful parlor of the Hotel Statler, following the careful planning by co-chairmen Russel S. McGinnis, '21, and Leon H. Dembo, '20, both of Cleveland.

The fellowship hour began in the cocktail lounge where members of the group gathered at special tables to "spark" off a pleasant evening with greetings and tales of Alma Mater and old friendships.

At eight o'clock alumni, wives and guests were served forty dinners at a U-shaped banquet table nicely decorated in the atmosphere of spring; the dinner was superb and served to a perfection with "all the trimmings".

Following dinner a telegram of greeting from the Jefferson Alumni Association was read, after which new President of the Alumni Association, Dr. Martin J. Sokoloff, delivered a warm welcome, and outlined the progress of both the Alumni Association and the College during the past year. Much to the interest of Alumni he explained the position of the Alumni Association, and the student body, in comparative figures on a national basis.

Dr. Louis J. Hampton, Professor of Anesthesiology and Head of the (new) Department of Anesthesiology addressed the group with interesting facts concerning the history and organization of his unit at Jefferson. He revealed the careful planning connected with the teaching methods concerning care of the "unconscious patient", and explained full details connected with the "Jefferson Ventilator". His remarks were very well received.

Dr. Paul A. Bowers, Assistant Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, transmitted first hand information about the Obstetric-Gynecology Department, explaining the "block system" of teaching smaller groups, "farming out" small groups of students to allied hospitals, didactic and ward teaching, departmental movie films, research projects, etc.

In the "question and answer period" which followed, much was discussed concerning Alma Mater, her present and her future, and the group lingered in small crowds to taper off genial tales about Jefferson, until next year when the meeting will be held at the University Club in Columbus, Ohio.

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY CHAPTER

The Northern New Jersey Chapter of The Jefferson Alumni Association held its annual spring meeting at the Essex Club, Newark, New Jersey, on April 25th, 1956.

After a very pleasant cocktail hour an excellent dinner was served. The twenty-nine members who were present thoroughly enjoyed the fine informal talks given by Dr. Louis J. Hampton, Professor of Anesthesiology and Head of the Department, and Dr. Kenneth E. Fry, Clinical Professor of Surgery.

The following officers were elected:

J. Lawrence Evans, M.D., '10 — President

Anthony M. Sellitto, M.D., '33 — Vice-President

Frederick C. DeTroia, M.D., '35 — Secretary-Treasurer

JEFERSON ALUMNUS TOURS FLORIDA AND CUBA MARIO A. CASTALLO, M.D., '29

This is a combined Jefferson Alumni Association and lecture tour report during a southern trip this winter.

The first Alumni contact was made in Key West, Florida, where I spoke with Dr. Leonard H. Conly, 227 Duval Street. Dr. Conly has been there for many years, practically since graduation in 1926. He is doing general medicine, and reports that many classmates call on him from time to time. I had the pleasure of spending a very interesting hour and a half with Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Hill, Class of 1930, at 1510 Rose Street, Key West, Florida. He is Director of the Monroe County Health Department in Key West. Dr. Hill had been in Quincy, Florida, where he was Health Officer during 1954 and 1955. He had been Commissioner of Health in Minneapolis, Minnesota, for ten years previous to his present assignment.

I was invited by Dr. James Ferguson, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Miami Medical School to give a round table conference on "The Surgical Management of Sterility" at the University on February 24, 1956. The school graduates its first class of twenty-four doctors this coming June. Dr. Ferguson was Associate Professor at Tulane before coming to Florida. The first two years of medicine are taken at the University of Miami at Coral Gables; the last two years at the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami. Although the hospital was built for a ten year growth, it has achieved this capacity in approximately two years. Dr. Robert E. Laurie, Class of 1954, is a first year resident in Obstetrics and Gynecology, and to make it seem "just like home" he ran the slides for me during the seminar.

I had the opportunity of seeing Dr. Anthony D. Amerise, Class of 1922, whose address is now 263 Avenue Aragon, Coral Gables, Florida. Dr. Amerise has been in Florida for over twenty years! He originally came from Hazleton, Pennsylvania, interned at the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami, where he met his wife, who was a nurse. Dr. Amerise is doing Internal Medicine. He was a founder-member of the Coral Gables Hospital, a two hundred and fifty bed hospital. Like everything else in this part of the country, this hospital is also growing by leaps and bounds. I was his guest at the Riviera Country Club for golf on the 25th of February and was astounded to see that he used a #5, #6 and #7 wood, and to great advantage.

The next day I was fortunate in seeing two Jefferson men, one a classmate of mine, Dr. William H. Izlar, who was kind enough to have me as his guest at the LaGorce Country Club. Dr. Izlar is Associate Professor of Neurology at the University of Miami; and a member of the Board of Trustees. I was further surprised during our golf that Izlar used all the regulation woods and also a #8 and #9 wood. Through Dr. Izlar I was fortunate in meeting Dan Mahoney of the Miami News, who was especially interesting. He was instrumental in the starting of the University of Miami Medical School and had the layman's point of view on the difficulty to start and continue a medical school.

It was interesting to learn that there were twenty-six Jefferson men in and around the Miami area. I was able to talk to Dr. Joseph Lomax, Class of 1932, who is doing Obstetrics and Gynecology at 407 Ingraham Building, Miami, Florida. Dr. Lomax interned at the Methodist Hospital in Philadelphia. He had a year of pathology at Temple University and a Gynecology residency in Buffalo. He then was in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Temple until 1942. He went into the Navy in 1943, was stationed in and about Miami, and has been there ever since. He is well, and sends his regards to all of his classmates. The evening of February 25th was spent with Dr. Anthony DeNote, Class of 1936, whose address is 1770 Northeast One Hundred and Thirty-Seventh Street, North Miami, Florida. He is becoming so busy that he is going to need an associate soon. He is doing Ophthalmology and has been in Florida since 1953.

While in Coral Gables, I also had the opportunity of seeing Dr. Thomas M. Scotti, Class of 1942, of 1216 Granada Boulevard. Scotti is a full time Associate Professor of Pathology at the University of Miami in Coral Gables. He has two children and another is due in July. He too seems to be very happy in Coral Gables, and at the new Medical School.

On Monday, February 27th, I flew over to Havana, from Miami, where I was guest of honor at a specially called combined meeting of the Cuban Obstetrical and Gynecological Society and their Society for the Study of Sterility. The subject of the presentation was "Surgical Reconstruction of Fallopian Tubes with Polyethylene", the paper was well received and a lively discussion followed. The next day we made a tour of the two bigger Maternity Hospitals; The Municipal Maternity Hospital — America Arias, and the Semi-Private Maternity Hospital — Obrera. In each hospital there are approximately five to six hundred deliveries a month. During a special meeting on February 28th two movies were shown, one depicting a new type of Caesarean section, using a micro incision. The other showed the use of a new drug, which acts much as a "saddle block" used either orally or intravenously.

On our way home we flew direct from Havana to Tampa. Among those contacted in that area were Dr. Louis H. Clerf in St. Petersburg, whose address is 5575 Eighth Avenue, North. He is completely retired except that he does give more than an occasional paper around the country and goes to many of the medical meetings in the surrounding area. He is very happy doing a lot of the things he has been wanting to do; and wishes to be remembered to all of his friends at Jefferson. I had an opportunity also, while in that city, to talk with Dr. Joseph J. Regan, Class of 1941. His address is 627 Eleventh Street, North, St. Petersburg, Florida. He is doing Psychiatry and is one of the more prolific gentlemen of the profession; he has seven children!! Four girls and three boys. I also spoke with Dr. John N. Sourbeer, Class of 1955, who is taking a rotating internship at the Mound Park Hospital in St. Petersburg, Florida. He has one boy who was born in June, and expects to go in the Navy after his internship. It was interesting to note that there were nineteen Jefferson men in the St. Petersburg area. The only other Jefferson Alumnus I had a chance to contact was Dr. Rowland R. Wood, Class of 1940, who is doing Internal Medicine.

In Tampa I had a visit with Dr. Joseph D. Brown, of my Class of 1929. He has been in Tampa now for a year and a half, and doing Proctology. I spoke with Dr. Francis L. Alexaitis, Class of 1915, of 209 W. Emma Street, Tampa, Florida. He had just been ill with the intestinal flu and was not feeling too well. I had a long talk with Dr. Hayward J. Blackmon, Class of 1922. He is doing Ear, Nose and Throat. He is looking forward to his Thirty-fifth Reunion and plans to visit Jefferson in June. I spoke with Dr. Alvord L. Stone, Class of 1926, 106 Hillsboro Avenue, Tampa, Florida. He has a son, James, who is in his last year at Jefferson, and he also has one other son and two girls. It is his thirtieth reunion year, and he hopes to be able to come up to celebrate both the graduation of his son at Jefferson and his Thirtieth Reunion.

The last few days prior to coming home were spent with Dr. John J. Cheleden, Class of 1932, who practices in Daytona Beach. John is very happy in his new location, and very busy doing Proctology. While there, I was invited to give a seminar on "The Surgical Management of Closed Tube Sterility" for a Journal Club in which John is a very active member. Wednesday being his day off, I was treated to a day of shad fishing in the St. John's River at Lemon Bluff. Dr. Cheleden keeps a very definite correspondence with the Alumni Group through his Vice-Presidency in the Alumni Association.

CLASS NOTES

- 1890 ORAN A. WOOD, M.D., 6A Oak Avenue, Westville, New Jersey, writes:

"The lovely flowers received on my birthday from the Alumni helped to make the occasion a most happy one. I wish to express my thanks for them and for the letter of congratulations and best wishes.

I am enjoying the fruits of my labor and each year life becomes more interesting. I cherish the memories of my days spent at Jefferson. They are still vivid in my memory."

LUDWIG LOEB, M.D., 250 S. 17th Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania,

Dr. Loeb's daughter writes:

"My father, Dr. Ludwig Loeb, asked me to express for him his sincere thanks for the beautiful letter which you sent in behalf of yourself and The Alumni Association for his birthday.

We, his children, appreciated this thoughtful attention too, and we thank you."

- 1892 JOSEPH H. CLOUD, M.D., 111 St. Pauls Road, Ardmore, Pennsylvania, writes:

"Thank you very much for your most cordial letter on the occasion of my eighty-fourth birthday. I certainly am fortunate in being as well as I am. I did appreciate your thinking of me.

Our son Lawrence (usually Larry), a third year resident in medicine at Jefferson, speaks of his working with you and how much he has enjoyed it."

- 1895 JULIUS WOLFSON, M.D., 602 Spruce Street, Philadelphia 6, Pennsylvania, writes:

"Many thanks to you and to The Jefferson Alumni Association for remembering me and for their well wishes.

Life is always cheered up when good fellows like you and the Alumni, convey good wishes. It is like a weary traveler, while plodding along, is greeted by a cheerful "Good morning, Friend! Best wishes to you."

May we all, and for many more years, enjoy God's blessings, and be always grateful to him. And let us not forget our friends."

- 1899 DOCTOR HARRY F. WEBER of Philadelphia who has served for several years as class agent for 1899.

- 1904 J. HOWARD ANDERSON, M.D., 89 Maple Avenue, Welch, West Virginia, beloved dean of McDowell county's practicing physicians, has completed fifty years of devoted duty to his profession, and at the age of eighty is still going strong, both in his work, civic affairs and church affairs.

He has had a rich and active life filled with administering to the sick and with serving his fellow man through youth groups and various civic organizations.

Active in organization of his profession and other civic groups, Dr. Anderson is a member of the American Medical Association, Southern Medical Association, West Virginia State Medical Association; McDowell County Medical Society, Forbes Anatomical Society, Davis Obstetrical Society, serving as President in 1904; a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternity and the Alpha Omega Alpha fraternity.

In the McDowell Medical Society Dr. Anderson has served as president and secretary, two terms in each office. For five years he was secretary of the West Virginia Medical Association and in 1921 served as its president. From 1922 to 1930 he served as counsellor from the fifth district for the West Virginia State Medical Association.

- *JOHN R. GILLUM, M.D., 805 S. Center Street, Terre Haute, Indiana, writes:

"I am enclosing my check for the Annual Giving Fund. We have both been ill this winter or you would have heard from me more promptly. At present I am laid up with a broken hip.

I am sorry you were not well last summer for we had looked forward to seeing you in Maine."

- 1905 MALCOLM Z. GEARHART, M.D., 330 N. 5th Street, Reading, Pennsylvania, received a plaque from the Berks County Medical Society honoring him for his fifty years of practice. Dr. Gearhart served his internship in the Reading Hospital and opened an office on N. Fifth Street in Reading in 1906. He became chief of Surgery at St. Joseph's Hospital in 1910, and held that position up to last year.

- 1907 R. SPENCER WOOD, M.D., 802-03 Professional Building, Waco, Texas, writes:

"I am enclosing my check for the Annual Giving Fund. I wish I were a rich man, I certainly would send you several thousand dollars.

I neglected to tell you of my wife's death last August. Since that time I have been living with my younger son, James Robert. He has a beautiful, sweet, wife who does her best to keep me happy. They have two lovely children, a boy Rex Spencer Wood, III, and a beautiful daughter, age three. She was born on my birthday."

- 1910 HAMILTON W. MCKAY, M.D., 98 Doctors Bldg., 1012 Kings Drive, Charlotte, North Carolina, pioneer Urologist of Charlotte and leader in the state's good health program, was one of the five prominent members of the Tar Heel medical profession to receive a distinguished service award at the final session of the University of North Carolina Medical School Alumni Meeting, March 28, 1956.

*Deceased March 30, 1956

- 1911 MARTIN H. COLLIER, M.D., Lakeland Sanatorium, Lakeland, New Jersey —

After thirty years as Superintendent and Medical Director of the Camden County Tuberculosis Hospital at Lakeland, Dr. Collier has announced his retirement effective March 31, 1956.

Dr. Collier informed Freeholder Joseph M. Sandone, Director-Chairman of county institutions, that after devoting most of his life to the hospital he would like to devote more time to private practice.

Sandone said, "We regret to see him leave. The county is losing a great and fine man. The work he has done at the Tuberculosis Hospital has been nationally recognized. We wish him success for the future."

He has served as President of the New Jersey State Board of Health, the New Jersey Chapter of Trudeau, which is the medical section of the National Tuberculosis Association, the Camden County Tuberculosis Association and the Camden Kiwanis Club. Last year he was awarded a certificate of merit by the board of regents of the New Jersey Chapter, American College of Chest Physicians.

Dr. Collier has two sons who are physicians, Dr. James F., who lives in Merchantville, New Jersey, and Dr. John M., a resident at the Philadelphia Lying In Hospital, a daughter, Miss Dorothy B., who is a teacher in a private school in New York City, and two grandsons, Martin H. 2nd, 3½, and James F. Jr., 6.

- 1918 HARRY E. THOMISON, M.D., new address is 519 Upper Mountain Avenue, Upper Montclair, New Jersey.

- 1919 JAMES S. BREWER, M.D., P.O. Box #397, Roseboro, North Carolina, a member of the North Carolina Care Commission since 1947, received a distinguished service award at the final session of The University of North Carolina Medical School Alumni Meeting, March 28, 1956.

- 1924 L. A. M. FEHER, M.D., 177 Somerset Street, New Brunswick, New Jersey, writes:

"Just a few lines to let you know that my family and I are in good health and carrying the Jefferson banner in New Brunswick, New Jersey. Mrs. Feher and I are anticipating a trip to Portugal, Spain, France, Italy, Austria and Germany, leaving by plane on April 29th, '56 and returning June 6th, '56.

- 1928 JO ONO, M.D., 75 Zaimokuchō Azabu, Minatoby, Tokyo, Japan, Vice-President for Japan, would like Alumni who may be in Japan to get in touch with him.

- 1929 YEN PUI CHANG, M.D., 2235 Seaview Avenue, Honolulu, Hawaii, writes:

"I was hoping to be able to make a trip to Detroit again this summer, but I'm planning to move into my new office about June. This I hope, and I'm sure, will be my last move until I'm ready to retire. You can, however, be sure that I will make a trip to Philadelphia in 1959 for our 30th Reunion, and this time I shall spend a few days more there."

JOSEPH J. REPA, M.D., Homer Folks Tuberculosis Hospital, Oneonta, New York, writes:

"Since my life is pretty much routine here at the hospital, I haven't much of any importance to report. My son graduated from Hartwick College in Business Administration in 1955 and my daughter from the Syracuse School of Nursing last December. If their aptitudes had been reversed I might have had another M.D. in the family, but those things we can't control.

I have no news regarding any '29 men, in fact I see very few Jeffersonians up this way. However, I see by way of the literature that Jefferson maintains her high standing among the top Medical Colleges of the country."

- 1930 WILLIAM W. BOLTON, M.D., 530 Washington, Wilmette, Illinois, Associate Director of the Bureau of Health Education, American Medical Association, was guest speaker at the Lincoln P. T. A., St. Charles, Illinois Meeting. Dr. Bolton covered Pediatrics as his general subject.

Dr. Bolton served his internship at Jefferson Hospital, where he later specialized in Dermatology, and served on the hospital staff.

His work in Health Education began in 1937, when he was on the staff of the Pennsylvania State Department of Health. After four years of service in the Army during World War II, when he received the medal of the Army Typhus Commission for epidemiology work in Germany, he joined the Bureau of Health, American Medical Association in 1945.

Despite a strenuous round of speaking engagements, Dr. Bolton has written numerous articles on health topics, as well as a book on emergency medical problems in the home. He has also served as medical consultant on school health education publications.

FRANCIS J. BRACELAND, M.D., Medical Director of the Institute of Living, 200 Retreat Avenue, Hartford, Connecticut, and Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Yale University, received the Sixth Annual Clarence E. Shaffrey, S.J., award at ceremonies held in St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia, on Sunday, April 8th, 1956.

The award, made by the school's Medical Alumni, consists of an inscribed medal and citation. It is presented to men who have distinguished themselves in their particular phase of medicine.

STEWART L. RANKIN, M.D., 32 W. Leamy Avenue, Springfield, Pennsylvania, Medical Director of the DuPont Company Petroleum Chemical Division, was guest speaker at the Annual Awards Dinner of The Calumet Industrial Safety Council, held March 1, 1956, at Hammond, Indiana. His topic was "Safety — A Way of Life."

After graduating from Jefferson, Dr. Rankin practiced General Medicine for two years, then went to Lehigh University where he directed the Student Health Service for four years. He came to the DuPont Company in 1937, and was appointed to his present position in 1946.

- 1933 DAVID D. DETAR, M.D., 545 N. Charlotte Street, Pottstown, Pennsylvania, was honored by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company with a pin for ten years service as plant physician.

The one time lumberman, former wrestling coach, physician, surgeon, farmer and church leader became Firestone physician February 1, 1956.

Dr. and Mrs. Detar have two children, David, Jr., Moyers Rd., Pottstown, and Mrs. William Anson, Trooper, Pennsylvania.

- 1933 DOCTOR CHARLES W. SEMISCH, III, class agent of 1933 since the Fund began whose class is now in eighth place in amount.

STANLEY M. STAPINSKI, M.D., 80 W. Main Street, Glen Lyon, Pennsylvania, county coroner, was presented with a tape recorder at a testimonial dinner in his honor, held in the American Legion Home of Newport Township Post #539, Glen Lyon.

The presentation was made on behalf of his neighbors and friends as a device Dr. Stapinski "will find useful in his coroner's inquests".

Dr. Stapinski is also chief of Medicine at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

- 1941 JAMES A. COLLINS, M.D., Mill Street, Riverside, Pennsylvania, Associate Physician in the Department of Medicine at the Geisinger Memorial Hospital, spoke on "Coronary Thrombosis" at the Third Annual Nurses' Cardiac Institute.

After graduating from Jefferson, Dr. Collins continued his medical education at the Geisinger Memorial Hospital with the rotating internship which was followed by a residency in Internal Medicine from 1941 through 1943.

In 1943 he was appointed as assistant to the staff at the Geisinger Hospital and since then has been Associate Physician in the Department of Medicine. During 1947 he spent six months as a visiting fellow in Internal Medicine at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota.

- 1942 JOHN H. CHEFFEY, M.D., is lost as far as our records are concerned. Any information will be welcome, and will become public knowledge.

EDWARD W. CONNELLY, M.D., change of address is 2321 Lexington Avenue, Ashland, Kentucky. Dr. Connelly was in Philadelphia this winter at The American College of Surgeons Meeting.

MATHEW A. HETRICK, M.D., enjoying Colorado Springs, Colorado, and on the move all the time. His office address is 23 E. Pikes Peak, home 1938 Wood Avenue.

EUGENE V. HIGGINS, M.D., Raymond Commerce Building, Newark 2, New Jersey, continues his "schizoid" practice in Newark and New York City, no problems.

ALBERT K. T. HO, M.D., 1531 S. Beretania Street, Honolulu 14, Hawaii, sends regards to all, no startling news.

HOWARD S. HUSSEY, M.D., Tarboro Clinic, Tarboro, North Carolina, reports the arrival of a young sister for his three sons. He sends best wishes to all.

DAVID O. JOHNSON, M.D., is planning to make the reunion next year with his entire family, then on to Maine. His new office and home addresses are: 2901 Red River, 4401 Barrow Avenue respectively, both Austin 5, Texas.

ROBERT H. MCCARTER, M.D., 82 Marlborough Street, Boston, Massachusetts, reports a new arrival last year, a boy, for a total of four male McCarters. He sends regards to all.

JOHN MCKEIGUE, M.D., 94 Pleasant Street, Arlington, Massachusetts, sends a good note, and is coming to the reunion next year to see a few Jeff men who are rarities in the Boston area.

THOMAS S. MIN, M.D., 1230 S. Beretania Street, Honolulu 46, Hawaii, Telephone: Honolulu 6-6050, announces a new arrival, a total of four young Mins, two of each type. He claims to be playing losing golf, which is doubtful.

WILLIAM J. NELSON, M.D., 220 Pine Street, Spartanburg, South Carolina, reports no radical changes in Spartanburg. It is common knowledge that he recently was seen on "The Continent" at famous watering spots.

WILLIAM G. RIDGWAY, M.D., 104 South 9th Street, Akron, Pennsylvania, enjoyed a recent visit to Hawaii, and reports royal hospitality by Tom Min and Albert Ho while there.

JAY L. SMITH, JR., M.D., 109½ Fifth Street, Spencer, North Carolina, sends greetings to all.

THOMAS H. WARREN, M.D., is heading the Department of Pathology at C & O Hospital, Clifton Forge, Virginia, after a long tour with the United States Public Health.

FRANK J. ZUKOSKI, M.D., sends a meaty letter from Beirut, Lebanon, where he still heads the Medical Department for Trans-Arabian Pipe Line Company. He reports a hot military and political atmosphere, with a major earthquake thrown in, and sends best wishes to all.

- 1944-S JOHN C. REGANIS, M.D., 2000 Washington Blvd., Easton, Pennsylvania, has been named a diplomate on the American Board of Surgery.

Following his graduation from Jefferson, Dr. Reganis interned at Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, in 1944-45 and served a residency in surgery in the same hospital from 1945 to 1946, after which he spent two years in the United States Army.

Dr. Reganis had one year preceptorship in surgery with Dr. Howard Mahorner, Associate Professor of Surgery at Louisiana State University. He was at the Guthrie Clinic, Sayre, Pennsylvania, from 1949 to 1952, spending one year on the surgical staff of the Easton Hospital.
